iarembeddedworkbenchforarm730crackExpression of glutathione-S-transferase A4-4 and Pi transporter promotes T cell survival in thymus. Previous studies from our laboratory have demonstrated that thymocyte apoptosis occurs between 48 and 72 h after birth. This "postnatal" thymocyte death results from an up-regulation of the cell death programme and it appears that apoptosis in thymocytes is mediated by thymocyte-specific stress signals. Glutathione-S-transferase

A4-4 (GSTA4-4) and Pi transporter (PiT-1) are involved in the synthesis of glutathione and the Pi transport respectively and their expression is related to oxidative stress. We have found that expression of GSTA4-4 and PiT-1 increased during thymocyte apoptosis. GSTA4-4 expression peaked at 72 h when many thymocytes were undergoing apoptosis. PI uptake was also increased at this time point. Apoptosis was also inhibited in mice overexpressing GSTA4-4 or PiT-1 in thymocytes, in a thymocyte-specific manner. The overexpression of GSTA4-4 and PiT-1 resulted in more thymocytes. Collectively, these results indicate that GSTA4-4 and PiT-1 expression promote thymocyte survival by inhibiting thymocyte apoptosis.
